Arts Council of Lake Oswego Moves into City Hall!

Lake Oswego, Oregon - The Arts Council is moving into its permanent home at the new City Hall building located at 380 A Avenue in Lake Oswego. The new offices will welcome visitors on May 21, for the opening of Highlights – a curated collection of the City of Lake Oswego’s permanent art collection.

“This has been a long time in the planning and it is exciting that it has now come to fruition,” states Nicole Nathan, executive director. “We were able to be a part of the design process where we have offices for staff, an 800 square foot community gallery, a 200 square foot multi-purpose space that can be used as additional gallery space, a meeting area, or an education and program room, along with storage and a kitchen. ARTspace Gallery will have greater visibility and foot traffic being part of the A Avenue corridor.

And, with our retail neighbors, Booktique, we will have greater opportunities to work collaboratively and be uniquely poised to integrate within the civic role of the new City Hall,” states Nathan. We are working on programming and openings, keeping in mind COVID requirements. Keep checking our website for exhibition schedules and more information on upcoming programs. We look forward to seeing the community, soon!
